CDD is dedicated to improving the health and independence of people with disabilities and creating a life with opportunities for everyone. As a multi-disciplinary center of excellence, The CDD integrates a broad array of clinical services in one location, including developmental and behavioral pediatrics, nursing, speech-language pathology, occupational and physical therapy, psychology, social work, education, and audiology, and thus provides an ideal environment for patient care, education and research. Our clinical team works with patients with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, autism spectrum disorder, behavior disorders, cerebral palsy, cognitive disorders, Down syndrome, Fragile X and spina bifida. Families who come to our clinic often have complex needs which is why CDD uses a team approach, bringing together the right experts to help families find answers. At the heart of each team are the patient and family. For more information please visit <https://uichildrens.org/medical-services/center-disabilities-and-development>.

The CDD is Iowa's University Center for Excellence on Disabilities (UCED). As Iowa's UCED, the CDD is dedicated to the vision of "a life in the community for everyone." The UCED partners with Iowans with disabilities and their families as well as providers, state and local agencies, and many others to improve the health and full community participation of people with disabilities, and to advance the community support and services on which they rely.

CDD is part of the University of Iowa Stead Family Children's Hospital, one of the nation's top-ranked pediatric care and research institutions. It is Iowa's only nationally ranked children's hospital and is listed among the nation's best in six specialties, according to the Best Children's Hospitals rankings published by U.S. News & World Report.
